Paulina Rubio gets milk

Paulina Rubio is doing her body good. The Mexican singer, 39, is the latest celebrity to join the Got Milk! mustache campaign with her mother, telenovela actress Susana Dosamantes.

La Chica Dorada has even more reason to chug the white stuff lately: She's carrying her first child (sex unknown) with her husband of three years, Spanish PR exec Nicolas Vallejo Najera.

Mom and daughter were at The Mondrian Hotel in Miami Beach Wednesday afternoon to unveil the ad, and Rubio told us she isn't dieting during her pregnancy.

"I love milk. Milk by itself, milk with hotcakes, with brownies, cookies — with everything!" she said. "But it has to be cold."

Luckily, her biggest craving has no fat: "Pickles. The sour ones. I don't know why."

Posing in the spot gave Paulina and Susana, 62, some bonding time. But abuela will be sticking around after the baby is born.

"I'm going to be big mama, like my mother and grandmother were," said Dosamantes. "We have like a dynasty of motherhood so I [plan] to do the same."
